Washington, March 26.

The battle of diplomacy for the averting of a tariff war with Canada began anew today, with conferences at the State Department and the White House, attended by W. S. Fielding the Canadian minister of finance, and George P. Graham, minister of railways of the Dominion. With the renewal of neg:ations every ove concerned in the attempt to reach a settlement has become silent as a sphinx, and not an inkling of he trend of the discussion is allowed to rickle out. The State Department has been aroused to the importance of the situ tion, and every possible concession will be made to Canada. The Canadians. however, hold all the cards in the game and they have the representatives of the the United States at their mercy. There is a possibility that a reciprocity treaty may result from the negotiations, tut that of course could not be completed by March 31. If the Canadians offer even slight concessions, however, it is practically certain that President Taft will find that the Dominion's tariff is not unduly day that it is impossible for the board to take the action desired by the conference. Much of the days session of the conference was taken up with re ports from the ministers as to their work during the past year. Sixteen young men were admitted on trial and is the largest class in a number of years.

Considerable discussion was caused by motion from the Lewisburg district restoring the ministerial credectials of V W. Wheeler. Mr. Wheeler was permitted to withdraw from the ministry a number of years ago with grave charges resting against him. His credentials were restored.

The comm t'es on church federation reported indorsing the closer federation of the various denominations, and providing for the appointment of five delegates to the National Conference on Oburch Federation. At night a missionary rally was held.

The banquet of Randolph Macon College A'umni, which was held last night at Fruend's, was largely attended.

The conference will not pay the expected call upon President Taft. A committee called upon him yesterday to arrange an hour when the conference as a body could pay its respects.
